That the demand for Federal patronship under the Democratic Administration extends to the New Castle congressional district would seem verified by the fact that twenty five candidates have applied for four small postmasterhips in the district having combined salaries of only $6100 annually.The Civil Service Commission has just terminated receipt of applications for the postmaster vacancies at Baden, Bessemer, New Galilee and Wampum, all in the Beaver-Butler-Lawrence congressional district, represented by Congressman Charles R. Eckert. The offices pay annual salaries of $1,600, $1,500, $1,

"We want to show that Isidor

SENATOR McCURE TO BE GIVEN HEARING

State Senate To Hear Statements

Resolution Introduced Into Senate Asking That Senator Resign Post

McCLURE CLAIMS HE IS INNOCENT

By G. EVERETT DOVING
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—The Republican-controlled senate today was ready to give Senator John J. McClure, erstwhile G. O. P. spokesman, an opportunity to prove publicly his declaration of innocence in the Delaware County rum ring graft scandal.

Hearings will be held, probably beginning next week, by the judiciary special committee on the resolution introduced by Senator Leon C. Prince, Cumberland, asking McClure to resign his seat to "relieve his colleagues of further embarrassment." McClure, a member of the committee, will be the principal witness at the hearings. Chairman C. W. Staudenmeier, Schuylkill, said.

McClure Gets Floor

Forewarned of Prince's impending request for his resignation, McClure obtained the floor on personal privilege to assert before a packed gallery.

"I can look any senator in the face tonight and say I am innocent of the charges brought against me in federal court. I welcome any resolution and hope for an opportunity to appear before any body to which it is referred where I hope I can clear myself once and for all."

The Delaware county Republican leader was convicted last year on charges of conspiracy to violate prohibition laws. The advent of repeal wiped the case off the books before an appeal was completed. At the trial, McClure and his co-defendants did not testify in their own defense. Explaining this, McClure said: "Our attorneys advised us not to present a defense and I was in the hands of my counsel."

Moral Obligation

"Technically the senator from Delaware may be entitled to sit in this chamber, morally he is not. Technically the senate may be under no obligation to take notice of the fact that he does sit here, morally it is."

"It is not so much that the senator has violated a law of the land; other men have done that without moral obliquity and even without justification. But the Delaware county conspiracies were without extenuating fact or circumstance."

characterized by shameless collusion and alliance with the most disreputable elements of society, and motivated by the lust of gain." Prince took cognizance of the fact that McClure remained away from the 1933 and 1934 special sessions and then returned to the 1935 biennial session to reassume his position as chairman of the powerful finance committee.

"It is a dangerous and demoralizing condition," he said, "which would allow the inference that moral delinquencies punishable in some form in business, professional, or social relationships, are ignored and even rewarded in politics."

Prince's efforts to obtain unanimous consent for an immediate vote on his resolution were prevented by objection of Senator Max Aron, Philadelphia.

Income Tax

NO. 8 EXEMPTIONS ALLOWED MARRIED COUPLES DURING TAXABLE YEAR

Taxpayers should note that under the Revenue Act of 1934 the credit for dependents as well as the personal exemption is required to be prorated where a change of status occurs during the taxable year and that these credits are allowable not only for the purpose of computing the normal tax, but also the tax to be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it is considered a month.

For example, a single man and a single woman who were married on July 20, 1934, and were living together on the last day of the taxable year, may file a joint return. If they file their return or returns on the basis of the calendar year, they would be entitled to a personal exemption of $2,000, which is seven-twelfths of $2,400 for the husband while single, plus seven-twelfths of $1,000 for the wife while single, plus five-twelfths of $2,500 for the period during which they were married. If separate returns are filed, each is entitled to a personal exemption of $1,041.7, which is seven-twelfths of $1,000, plus one-half of five-twelfths of $2,000. If during the year the husband of the wife had the status of the head of a family prior to their marriage he or she would be entitled to his or her pro rata share of the personal exemption of $2,500 allowed the head of a family for the period prior to their marriage instead of merely that allowed a single person. However, for the period of their marriage, any exemption to which either might be entitled as the head of a family would be merged in the joint personal exemption for that period. The joint personal exemption allowable in the case of a couple who were married and living together during the entire year may not exceed $2,500.

If a child under 18 years of age and dependent on the parent for support reaches the age of 18 years during the taxable year, the credit of $400 for a dependent is required to be pro-rated in the same manner as the personal exemption. For example, should the child's eighteenth birthday fall on June 30, the parent would be entitled to claim $200 credit for the dependent child—that is, one-half of $400. The same rule applies to other dependents where a change of status occurs during the taxable year.

COL. LINDBERGH AGAIN TO TAKE WITNESS STAND

state's important rebuttal witnesses will be Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, father of the slain baby, who will return to the stand to refute the defense theory and contention that the kidnapping was an "inside job."

Near End Of Defense

There was talk today that the defense had fifteen more witnesses. But it was only talk. The death of defense witnesses was apparent yesterday afternoon when Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel for the defense, looked around and suddenly found he had none available. In the crisis, the defense took a gamble and called Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, in charge of the Lindbergh case from the beginning, as a witness for Hauptmann.

Colonel Schwarzkopf, who is superintendent of the New Jersey state police, said, in reply to a question from Attorney General David T. Wilentz, that he gave every ounce of energy for more than two years and a half to solve the crime which shocked the world.

"Was there any other person whose identity came to your notice who had in his garage $14,000 of the Lindbergh ransom money; in whose rooms there was found in one of the closets the name and telephone number of Dr. John F. Condon; who owned a Dodge, and in whose attic was found a board that was sawed off?" asked Wilentz.

"No, sir," replied Schwarzkopf. "Anybody else but Hauptmann?"

"No, sir, no one else."

Policemen in Paris are preferred small, the idea being that a small man is less conspicuous.

PA NEW OBSERVES

the top of the hill and have piled huge blocks of stone halfway across the road, which is narrow enough at this point. The road curves at the top of the hill. Although lights are placed on the stone pile, they cannot be seen by motorists coming around the bend, until they are but a few feet away. There is plenty of room along the sidewalk above and below this point to pile these stones. Ice and snow add to this hazard.

More auto chains were in use today than at any time previously this winter. Chains are needed for traffic in deep snow.

Somebody whispered to Pa New early today, "I believe the groundhog was right."

Talking about hardy lads! Pa New saw a youth riding a bicycle through the deep snow on the north hill, this morning.

Some of the people who broke the paths on Washington street, early this morning, did not travel in a very straight line. Pa New observed. They much resembled cow paths in their wanderings.

Police last night went to Chestnut street where boys were reported to be sledriding on the sidewalk.

Today's heavy snowfall made small boys happy and no doubt there will be considerable sledriding tonight on streets on which sledriding has not been banned by police. Parents should advise boys on what streets sledriding has not been banned. Autoists also are expected to use caution in operating their cars.

Today's heavy snowfall rivals that of February 26, last year, when five and a half inches of snow was recorded, followed by an inch and a half the next day, and in addition, the temperature dropped to fourteen below zero. But maybe you remember all that.

Thomas E. Maloy, motion picture operator, offered an amendment to the bill providing that the $4,000,000 should be raised through the issuance of silver certificates to be retired at the rate of four per cent a year.

Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada, offered an amendment calling for payment of "not less than the prevailing rates of wages" on any project financed by the bill. Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania offered a similar amendment. Both amendments would continue the $50 a month limit to workers. This would be accomplished by reducing the prevailing wage scale. Thus, if $5 were the prevailing daily wage scale, the workers would have to be paid $5 a day, but could be employed only ten days a month.

Democratic Attacks

Democratic attacks on the extraordinary powers proposed for the president were:

1. A proposal to limit public works expenditures to projects heretofore or hereafter approved by congress.
2. A proposal to limit public road expenditures to contributions to states, under existing laws.
3. Creation of a federal board, its members subject to confirmation by the senate, to supervise all expenditures.

Republican attacks will be more sweeping. Thus far, Republican members have delayed their attacks, awaiting a decision by committee Democrats on the phraseology of the bill.

snow continued in intensity, the trucks were held back. Later in the morning, some of the hills were ashed when the snow had packed down and made the going slippery.

Work of removing the snow from the downtown streets was started later in the morning, but slow progress was being made because of the heavy fall.

Rudy And Fay Throwing Mud

Fay Webb Starts Suit To Set Aside Separation Agreement

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Rudy and Fay Webb Vallee began throwing shovelful of mud at each other today in her suit to set aside a separation agreement made with the crooner April 5, 1933.

"We will show," shouted Attorney Hyman Bushel of Rudy's counsel as the case began before Supreme Court Justice Salvatore Cotillo, "that Mrs. Vallee was the most dishonest woman that was even married to any man."

Mud Slinging

"We will show," testified Attorney Thomas Sheridan, one of Fay's half dozen lawyers, "that tricks and artifices were used on Mrs. Vallee and her father, Clarence Webb, culminating in the separation agreement."

Rudy appeared quite distressed while the lawyers strove to outshoot each other. Fay, white faced and apparently faint, sat slumped between a nurse and her father, who is chief of police of Santa Monica, Calif. Several times she asked for water.

passage of his permanent work program.

Controversies were piling up before the senate appropriations committee as it studied the program. For one thing, it will provoke a battle over silver. Another contest will involve wage levels.

Power proposed for the president—a power which would make him dictator over four billions of expenditures.

Offer Amendments

Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, offered an amendment to the bill providing that the $4,000,000 should be raised through the issuance of silver certificates to be retired at the rate of four per cent a year.

Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada, offered an amendment calling for payment of "not less than the prevailing rates of wages" on any project financed by the bill. Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania offered a similar amendment. Both amendments would continue the $50 a month limit to workers. This would be accomplished by reducing the prevailing wage scale. Thus, if $5 were the prevailing daily wage scale, the workers would have to be paid $5 a day, but could be employed only ten days a month.

Wants Payment For Damage To Truck

Joe La Tona Files Suit Against Dr. Simon Skole As Result Of Collision

Joe La Tona of Taylor township, has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Dr. Simon Skole, of this city, to recover $424 damages as a result of an automobile collision on South Mill street.

La Tona claims that he had his truck parked a short distance north of Taylor street on South Mill street. There is a depression at the intersection of Taylor street, caused by recent sewer excavations. It is alleged that Dr. Skole's car veered after going into this depression and struck the truck. The frame of the truck was bent, the propeller broken and the car otherwise damaged.

Repairs to the car are estimated at $332, and the balance of the claim is for loss of use of the truck and having it towed to a garage. It is alleged that the accident was due to the high rate of speed at which the doctor was driving.

Bridge formed the entertainment of the leisure moments, four tables being in play. Prizes for hoopers, were captured by Wanda White and Geraldine McClelland.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR OF COUNTY RELIEF

The members of the New Castle Woman's Club now have a clearer idea of the manipulation of relief in Lawrence county, after listening to the program Monday afternoon, which was in charge of the Welfare department of the club of which Mrs. S. W. Perry is chairman.

Mrs. Archibald H. Davis, Jr., presided at the business session when 21 new members were added to the club's list.

Mrs. H. L. Gormley of the program committee announced a change in the program for February 18, which will be guest day, with M. Reinzenstein, of Pittsburgh as speaker. He will have "China and Glassware" as his subject.

Mrs. Gayle Blinn announced the final lecture in a series on "Current Events" by Dr. John Coleman of Geneva College, to take place on Thursday evening in the Highland church.

After the transaction of club business Mrs. S. W. Perry introduced Dr. G. S. Bennett, head of the Emergency Relief of Lawrence county, who explained to the women just how this project has grown to tremendous proportions in the past two years. He said the relief problem has now become the largest problem not only for the county, but for the state and nation and there is more money being expended on this branch of government work at present than in any other one thing. He told that one third of the county population is now on the relief roll, either on direct or work relief, and he says the families on the relief are increasing at the rate of 300 per month. He told many pathetic details of his personal contact in his work, and also a few amusing incidents.

Mrs. W. P. Felch, accompanied by Mrs. D. Duff Scott, sang "I Shall Not Live in Vain" at the interlude between the speakers.

Mrs. S. E. Crawford, one of the club members, who is a member of the Mother's Assistance board of the county, then spoke to the women of the mother's assistance, the blind, and old age pension, as handled by the board. She told of the requirements for obtaining the grants, and of the investigations and problems that confront the 7 women from the county, who are handling the county's relief in these quarters. She said the board does not have any paid workers, the women give of their time in looking after these people. She said in the mother's fund the state appropriates $20,000 and the county appropriates the same amount to carry on this work, with 100 mothers and about 300 children on the payrolls at the present time.

On account of the blind and old age pensions being in their infancy, there is not a great deal done along this line yet, although the women are taking care of the cases as efficiently and quickly as they can. She said there are now 52 on the blind pension, which pays out about $998 per month. She cited tragic incidents in the line of her work.

Stitch-A-Bit Club

LIBRARY DAY PROVES EDUCATIONAL FEATURE

"Your Public Library" was the title of a very cleverly written playlet presented under the direction of Mrs. George D. Morris and Miss Margaret Smith, in observance of Library Day, at the meeting of the Reading Circle, Monday afternoon, in the East Wallace avenue home of Miss Laura Marquis.

The program proved most instructive, as well as entertaining, as it portrayed what a busy life our librarians lead and how useful our public library can be to the public at large. It was related how many hundreds of new books are being received, continually, and the large amount of work cataloging these and other details is involved, prior to their being put upon the shelves.

Those taking part in the sketch were Miss Margaret Smith, of the library staff; Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, who was a club guest; Mrs. V. C. Hove, Mrs. H. W. Burgess, Mrs. George W. Conway, Mrs. J. J. Davis, Mrs. W. E. Ferver, Mrs. Dean Staler, Mrs. George D. Morris.

The program was concluded by the reading of two selections by the "talking book," a practically new addition to the library, for the use of the blind. This book is used one afternoon each week, for the pleasure and education of those in the county who cannot see, much interest already being shown in this remarkable vehicle of expression.

There was a record attendance at yesterday's meeting, and the afternoon's entertainment was one of the best which has ever been offered. The next meeting is scheduled for February 18, the hostess to be announced.

Mrs. Thomas Basterfield and Miss Dorothy Kay were in charge of the evening's entertainment. Misses Edyce Brandon and Betty Gray were awarded trophies for their brilliance in the contests.

Plans for an annual banquet on April 1 were tentatively made. The program for this event will be arranged by Mrs. Mac McDermott, Mrs. Dave Lewis, Mrs. Carl Ulrich, Leonard, while the decorating will be done by Mrs. William McGuire, Mrs. Floyd Kelley, Mrs. Love and Mrs. Gurth Rapson.

Hours will be from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening, when all friends of this prominent couple in Lawrence county are cordially invited to call.

At noon a family dinner will be served, it being planned to have present at this time, the couple's seven children, including the three daughters, Mrs. Donald Cameron, of Pulaski; Mrs. James Boyle, of Butler; Miss Nina Boyd, of Princeton; the four sons, R. For years previous to his public office work he was engaged in the farm implement business at Princeton, resuming it after his term of office expired. Plans had been made to celebrate the fiftieth wedding anniversary three years ago, but due to family illness this was impossible. A happy day is being eagerly anticipated for this coming Saturday.

SOMETHING GOES WRONG WITH EXPERTS

SOMETHING seems to have gone wrong with the collegiate plan for increasing the foreign market for cotton. According to Frederick Gardiner, financial writer, "foreign buyers have been snubbing the South's number one product in the world market and threatening to upset calculations as to how fast the country, through its production restriction plan, could reduce its burdensome surplus."

The American production has gone down through crop control, it is stated. Exports last season fell about a million bales, which was not regarded with emotion, but exports for this season have declined, it is estimated, nearly two million bales. This is not so good and deserves some study.

Some of those in charge of the present program say the decline has been due to decreased consumption abroad, especially in Germany, and to the troubles of the gold bloc countries.

But others, not in charge of the government program, who claim to know something about cotton, think that the collegiate program directed from Washington is responsible. Our going off the gold standard was supposed to increase rather than decrease our exports to gold-standard countries, so why blame the gold standard?

The drop in America was decreased to raise the price of the product. But the plan has served also to stimulate foreign agriculturists. With the price higher and America producing less, these foreign cotton growers have increased their output, growing cotton much cheaper than America can. As a result nations which formerly bought large quantities of our cotton are now buying cheaper from producers alien to us, and will buy more if the present program continues.

THE FOUR-BILLION-DOLLAR MYSTERY

The administration's plan to rush its $4,880,000,000 works-relief bill through the senate is not moving according to schedule. There is talk of excited controversy in a secret conference of appropriations committee Democrats. It is even hinted that the whole bill will be redrafted, a solemn thought in view of the fact that federal relief funds will be exhausted by February 10 and part of the $880,000,000 sorely needed.

It appears that failure of Democratic senators to agree on united action regarding the bill is due, not to doubts about the broad question of extending the president's authority, but to the absence of information, except for general classifications such as slum clearance, rural housing, grade crossings, highways and so on, as to how the president intends to allot the public works fund.

It may be that the administration's mind is vague on the subject. Concerning Saturday's executive conference it was said that Admiral Peoples suggested that the government could derive revenue from selling gasoline along the highways. When Senators O'Mahoney and Truman replied that such activity might be viewed as government competition with private business, Admiral Peoples replied that the gasoline could be sold through concessions.

If this is a sample of the deliberations on the works-relief bill, citizens may rightly wonder what sort of measure is going to be dumped on them. A preliminary criticism of the huge executive fund was that, unless it were administered with wisdom and caution, it might hamper industry and delay the business recovery which it was intended to hasten. But if such matters as government dispensing of gasoline are being considered it would appear wholly futile to view the bill as a recovery measure.

It has been said repeatedly that the $4,880,000,000 fund probably could be handled more wisely by the president than by congress, with its demands for pork. But it is strange, in this connection, that the administration remains so reticent about even a bare summary of contemplated projects. In the words of the unemotional Associated Press, the executive hearings on the bill showed "how completely the administration fended off committee efforts to learn where the money would go." If the members of the senate appropriations committee are not permitted to know how money is to be used, what form of government is it that we are adopting in this country?

There may be a time and a place for jealously guarded government secrets, but surely plans for administering billions calculated to end the depression are of general concern—unless, of course, there has been a fundamental change in the American concept of the executive's powers.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HEART BALM RACKET

A bill has been proposed in the Indiana legislature which would ban any form of "heart balm" suit, including seduction, alienation of affections, and naming co-respondents in divorce cases. These suits are called "extortion" by the woman (Indiana's only woman legislator) who proposes the bill.

Some women and some lawyers may call this a mean betrayal of her own sex by the lady legislator. Fair-minded women, however, will agree with her that many such suits have come to be means of extortion rather than of justice, and that they deserve to be included in the growing list of rackets on which the public turns thumbs down.

Perhaps some of us can trace our present state of virtue to the fact that there isn't as much tainted money around as there was back in the lush days.

We're not provincial in our outlook, of course, or even suspicious, but the only foreign nation we'd have in to dinner without counting the silverware afterward is Finland.

Someone has discovered that the English in the sixteenth century had a weapon that was a combination of a pistol, a dagger and a pair of brass knuckles. This goes to prove that the American gangster could learn a great deal through a study of ancient history.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

IT'S TRUE, BUT I DON'T BELIEVE IT

SINCE THIS is a true story I must tell it very carefully. Because a true story is the most difficult of all to tell because, if you do not tell it properly it will sound unreal, as if you made it up, as if it had never happened. And to make it interesting I must keep the conclusion of it well concealed so you will not be able to guess it ahead of time. . . I understand that this is the way all good raconteurs and toastmasters tell their stories.

A man planned a dinner party and decided to serve mushrooms. And being fairly confident of his ability to tell a mushroom from a toadstool, he went into the hills after the first winter rains and gathered a mess of them, enough for twenty people. . . But after he had gathered them he wasn't so sure of his judgement. So, in the afternoon, he cooked a few characteristic ones and fed them to his cat. (That wouldn't work with our cat, because it doesn't like mushrooms and besides we don't think much of the idea of trying out toadstools on a cat. But don't forget about that.)

And all afternoon he kept a vigilant eye on the cat. . . As far as he could see nothing happened. The cat, as usual, was lively and sleek and impudent, with no intentions of dying. . . So he served the mushrooms to his twenty guests and they enjoyed them and the steaks and the wine and the poppy seed rolls and the ice cream and the coffee and agreed as they sat around the table afterwards that they'd never eaten more pleasantly in their lives. (Please keep in mind this picture of perfect content and satiety.)

But at just this minute the maid came in and whispered in the host's ear that a neighbor had just come in to report that the cat was dead.

So very quietly, agitated but decisive, the host went to the telephone and sent for a couple of doctors and told them to bring stomach pumps along. When the doctors arrived, he explained about the mushrooms and the cat (and the curtain drops for a short interval).

Afterwards, as they all sat around pale and thankful, the host thought of his poor cat and asked the maid what she had done with the body. . . And the maid said, "It's still out in front—where the car hit him."

Mushrooms! Lovely dinner! Stomach pumps! Horrible embarrassment! Don't know about that host, but as for ME, I'm never, never NEVER going to jump at a conclusion again!

P. S.: Just as I wrote this a friend looked over my shoulder and said: "That isn't a true story" it's folklore. I've heard it about dogs and cats, about mushrooms, prohibition liquor and mussels. I've seen it in the movies and heard it on the air. . . But I don't care if the story isn't true. I like it.

GET AWAY FROM THE GRIND

As a method of relaxation and to rid yourself of disquieting thoughts at times, it might be well to imagine you are someone else. Not so freakish as it sounds. Perhaps you have wondered at the apparent happiness of stage people.

You may have thought it to be a lack of appreciation of the serious side of life.

More than likely it is that their work enables them to get away from themselves.

They live the lives of the characters they portray.

You may be too engrossed in strictly personal matters.

Your thoughts travel the same grooves day after day, year in and year out.

Your life becomes colorless.

You need a blending of interests to expand into a full life. Boring is the every-day grind, and when you think of "grind" remember the organ grinder.

Could anyone have a more tiresome task than turning tunes?

HIGH PAY

During the big league baseball season of 1934, Heine Schuble was a substitute shortstop for Detroit at a salary of $2,500. He received more than that amount, or $3,684 as his share of the World Series profits.

It so happened that Schuble was at bat only seven times during the whole season. Of course, he had to be in uniform and on the players' bench every game ready to play if called on, but for each of those seven times at bat Heine received an average of $523.43, no matter whether he got a hit, walked or struck out.

Edgar Clough, pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1926, has the better record of that sort. Clough got $5,000 for the season and did not pitch one inning in a league game that season.

And Parker's use of the phrase can be traced back to Daniel Webster, who, back in 1830, said in a public speech "The people's government, made for the people, made by the people, and answerable to the people."

The World At A Glance

Inflation Visioned.
Small Things Increase Earnings.
Sales Tax Hits Food Heavy.Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street.By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Men are beginning to talk of inflation—how to invest to protect themselves against inflation.

As federal and state debts rise, the tendency will be to make those debts worth less. That is done through inflation, which decreases the value of money against real things.

We hear Professor Charles J. Bullock of Harvard University, economist and monetary expert, warn that soon we may have an inflation that will make commodity prices soar. He said he believed the price rise would surpass the increase of 1.50 per cent following the World war.

Great suffering would accrue to the salaried man and the small wage earner, Professor Bullock asserts.

Many corporations with fixed rates—such as utilities, and railroads—would approach bankruptcy.

Real property—real estate and commodities in hand—would rise on a speculative wave.

If the 59 cent dollar remains, it will form the basis "for a huge expansion of credit as soon as confidence is restored and people are willing to borrow," Professor Bullock explains.

He adds: "So far we have had little real inflation. We've been promissed a budget. The federal budget continues unbalanced and bank deposits thereby are being pushed up. Bank credit, however, is not stimulus when the patient's disposition is that he is unwilling to take the medicine. When the patient is ready the basis is already laid for a tremendous inflation."

Small Things
Some small things will increase earnings of some large corporations this year.

Northwestern and western railroads will have much greater traffic this year because of ample winter precipitation in their regions against an all year drought in 1934.

But precipitation along the upper reaches of the Great Lakes has not been heavy enough to check the low tide in these great bodies of water—and shipping companies again will have to reduce loaded drafts of ships this year.

The Hauptmann trial at Flemington, N. J. will increase earnings of communications companies.

And the series of cold spells have been a great help to coal mines and makers of winter garments.

A TAX ON FOOD
A grocery clerk in Cleveland, Philip Launer, has become somewhat of a local hero in Ohio for "writing a letter to the paper" concerning the state's new sales tax, which bears heavily on food. This is the letter:

"Clerking in a grocery store in one of the poor sections of the city should, I think, give me first-hand knowledge of how this class of people are taking the sales tax on food.

"To the poor housewife who buys in small quantities day by day it is not a 3 per cent tax; it is closer to a 10 per cent tax.

"When totaling up their average grocery bill of 15 to 20 cents it hurts me to think that I'll have to ask for an extra cent. I may explain, I may try to soothe, there may be a forced smile and a shrug of the shoulders, an ironic joke, but inwardly we both know it is hopeless to do otherwise.

"They do not realize how long it is to stay, this day after day taxing on what measly food they buy.

"Why do those who can't afford to dig in have to pay the so-called 3 per cent tax?

"Why place an equal, if not greater, burden on the indigent, on those who are forced to save on pennies?"

"Why tax food?"

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5

History Up-To-Date—Feb. 5, 1725.
James Otis was born in Barnstable, Mass., destined to become the lawyer whose speech against the "writs of assistance" in Boston, in January, 1761, marked the beginning of the Revolution.

In this speech he uttered the phrase that was to become the foundation of the Bill of Rights in the Constitution: "A man's house is his castle." This was not, of course, original with him—it had been bespoken by Edward Coke, English jurist.

Nothing in Otis' life was as spectacular as his death. He had often expressed a wish that his passing might be by a stroke of lightning. When he was 53 he stood at his door during a thunderstorm, and was killed instantly by a bolt!

Feb. 5, 1840.—Hiram Stevens
Maxim was born in Sangersville, Maine, destined to become a coach builder, an inventor of electric lamps, smokeless powder, a pneumatic gun, and "the greatest destroyer of human life ever devised"—the Maxim machine gun. Liddell Hart in his "A History of the World War," the final present-day authority on the conflict, tells us:

"His (Maxim's) name is more deeply engraved on the real history of the World war than that of any other man. Emperors, statesmen and generals had the power to make the war, but not to end it. Having created it, they found themselves helpless puppets in the grip of Hiram Maxim, who, by his machine gun, has paralyzed the power of attack. All efforts to break the defensive grip of the machine gun were vain; they could only raise tombstones and not triumphal arches.

"When at last the key to the deadlock

McCracken Must Serve Ten Days

Former Assistant Secretary Of Commerce May Serve Time In Washington Jail

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The "boys" in the big jailhouse were looking forward today to enjoying the company of a man who has associated with presidents—William R. McCracken, Jr., assistant secretary of commerce in charge of aeronautics in the Hoover administration, and now an aviation company attorney.

The Supreme Court reversed an appellate court ruling and upheld the decision of the District of Columbia Supreme Court sustaining the senate's action in sentencing McCracken to 10 days in jail for contempt. McCracken wants to make sure he has no further legal recourse to escape the term before surrendering and he may be allowed a month before he is arrested and taken to jail, unless he surrenders voluntarily.

ASSAIL PLAN FOR LOWERING TARIFF

(International News Service) LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 5.—Declaring home markets would be impaired, the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau in its official organ, "The Farm Review," today assailed the proposed policy of the federal administration to lower tariff walls to foreign-made goods in return for agricultural products sold to Europe.

DELAYS NAMING STATE LIQUOR STORES PROBERS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—After an unexpected delay of a day, Speaker Wilson G. Sarig of the house today was to name the committee of seven to conduct the probe of the state stores system demanded by Gov. George H. Earle.

Although the house was thronged with spectators last night in anticipation of the announcement, the speaker deferred action until he had an opportunity to confer with Governor Earle. "Out of courtesy to the governor I could not announce the committee until he had passed upon the personnel," the speaker explained.

In a 35-minute session, the shortest thus far, the house received almost 100 new bills and gave first reading to three of the governor's labor bills. The latter were the Haluska bill reducing working hours of women to 40 a week, the Collahan bill repealing the Industrial Police Act, and the Harmuth bill, requiring that deputy sheriffs be paid by counties instead of corporations employing them.

Master Painters Have Code Meeting

Plan To Protect Public From Unscrupulous Contractors In New Castle

At the code meeting of the Master Painters, decorators, paper hangers, auto painters and sign painters, held last evening in the Leslie hotel, plans were inaugurated to take steps to protect the local public from unscrupulous transient contractors.

Plans were made for a smoker on Friday evening, when the county organization will be furthered. An invitation is being given to the master painters of Ellwood City, New Wilmington, Wampum and other points in the county in addition to the local members to attend this meeting, when steps will be taken to further the organization under the NRA code.

The code of ethics under the NRA must be adhered to. President Charles E. Patterson stated this morning, and that is the principal aim of the organization.

Cannot Raise Rate After Contract Made

This Is Position Taken By Solicitor In Suit By Insurance Company

Solicitor Robert White, Finance Director Hoyland and City Clerk W. T. Burns have returned from Pittsburgh, where the suit of the Aetna Life Insurance Company case against the city was aired. The company has sued the city for approximately $3,700, which they claim is due for insurance on mayor's relief workers in 1933.

The company raised the rate after a contract had been written according to Solicitor White, and he maintained that this was illegal. White submitted the city's side to the court without it going to a jury. The company offered evidence. White also asked that the case be nonsuited. The judge said arguments would be heard in March.

T. M. HUTCHISON IS EIGHTY-NINE YEARS

When T. M. Hutchison, of the Nashua road, opens his copy of The News this evening, he will no doubt be surprised to read that his neighbors are thinking of him and being reminded that on Wednesday, February 6, he will reach the ripe old age of 89 years, which doesn't mean all it implies, as Mr. Hutchison is one of the spry old gentlemen in the neighborhood.

He is mentally alert at all times, reads papers, and books better than one of much younger years, and endeavors to keep abreast of these modern times. He is an interesting character and is much beloved by all who know him.

He is one of the best known farmers in the community, having resided on the same farm practically his entire lifetime. Since the passing of his wife a few years ago, Mr. Hutchison has had the companionship of a niece, Miss Florence Dadds who is a relative on both sides of the family. Many good wishes will be extended him for continued health and happiness on the anniversary tomorrow.

Townsend Goes Before Congressmen On Plan

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the $200 a month old age pension plan, on Monday told the house ways and means committee that John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and Henry Ford could qualify for the pension.
All they would have to do, he said, is to give up management of business enterprises.
"Even if a man had an income of a million dollars a month from stocks, bonds, and other investment, he could get the $200 a month?" Rep. Hill (D) of Washington, asked.
"Yes," replied Townsend. "The object is to get money in circulation."
"You wouldn't want a man to simply squander the money?" asked Hill.
"Why not?" countered Townsend. "Let him buy whiskey if he wants, and kill himself."
"If a man and wife had $200 a month, could their grown children live with them and receive part of the money?" asked Hill.

"Sure, why not?" replied Townsend.

Cost Is Enormous
Townsend's appearance before the committee was a surprise. He had previously declined to answer questions on advice of doctors, and had requested that Francis Cuttle of Riverside, Calif., take his place. Cuttle failed to arrive.

Just before he took the stand, the committee on economic security through Edward S. Witte, submitted a formal brief entitled "Why the Townsend Plan Is Impossible."
Witte estimated that ten million people would qualify for Townsend's pension at a cost of $24,000,000,000 a year. This, he said, is three times the total combined federal, state, and local taxes of $8,212,000,000 in 1932.

Probe Alleged "Baby Farm" In Erie County

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Feb. 5.—On information obtained from a woman who fears she is dying, state police today pushed their investigation of "baby farm" operations in Erie county following the arrest of Mrs. Minnie Falkenstein, 55, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Falkenstein was taken into custody after a woman, whose name was not disclosed by police, signed an affidavit charging she underwent a criminal operation at the Falkenstein place. The husband of the woman patient was questioned but released by authorities.
Police said Mrs. Falkenstein was convicted of performing a criminal operation about 25 years ago under the name of Minnie Salot.
Simultaneously with the arrest of Mrs. Falkenstein, District Attorney Mortimer E. Graham revealed "another place" is being watched closely.

Framing New Bank Measure

Insured Deposits To Be Permanent Under Provision Of New Bill

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A drive to increase the maximum insurance protection for bank deposits to as high as $100,000 was renewed in congress today as the administration submitted the major portion of its new banking legislation.

This legislation, to be known as the "Banking Act of 1935," merges existing temporary funds of the FDIC into the permanent insurance plan. The latter would become operative immediately.

Under the permanent insurance plan, $5,000 is continued as the maximum insurance protection for each depositor in any bank. Trust funds will be insured up to $5,000 for each trust estate. Members intend to have this maximum increased but the administration wants the $5,000 maximum retained since this figure covers approximately 90 per cent of all bank depositors.

Among other proposals suggested for the permanent plan is the fixing of the maximum limit of assessment for banks at one-twelfth of one per cent of total deposits. This provision would be substituted for the obligatory stock subscription of one per cent of total deposits with liability for repeated assessments.
The corporation also will be permitted to buy assets of closed banks until July 1, 1936, and to open banks when it will facilitate mergers and avert losses. The FDIC may make loans to insured banks for this purpose or to guarantee other insured banks against loss by assuming their liabilities.

Pittsburgh Man Shows Many Varieties At Meeting Last Evening

New Castle Coin club members were given another treat last evening, when they were shown an exhibit of extremely rare and odd pieces at their meeting last evening by H. D. Gibbs, a member of the Pittsburgh Coin club.

In addition to many different kinds of shell money, dog teeth money, feather money, etc., he exhibited a collection of pieces which were coin as substitutes for money in France, Belgium, and other European countries during periods of siege.

Some of the latter pieces had been made from the silver ornaments in the churches, and were crude specimens, used principally to pay the soldiers.

Other coins shown were pieces used in the West Indies, which consisted of small bits cut out of dollars and larger coins, and were used to make change.
Arrangements are being made by the club for several exhibits in the near future, when some interesting specimens will be shown.

CONSTIPATION STOPPED WITHOUT DRUGS WITH NEW HONEY KRUSHED WHEAT BREAD

Hundreds of Local People Report Amazing Results Since Eating Honey Krushed Wheat Bread for Constipation

One of the secrets used in baking Orr's Honey Krushed Wheat Bread is the use of pure honey, which many doctors have found greatly assists in relieving constipation. In addition to its health qualities, honey gives the new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread a delicious nutty flavor and eliminates the flat, woody taste found in whole wheat breads. The whole wheat (in crushed form) gives the diet just the amount of roughage to keep you healthy and regular and prevents clogged intestines without the use of habit-forming drugs.

Make This Ten-Day Test
If you are troubled with constipation, feel sluggish and lack your old time pep, change over to the new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread for ten days. In a short time your elimination will be greatly improved, the poisons that have accumulated in your intestines will be removed and almost before you know it you will feel like a new person. If eaten regularly every meal, Honey Krushed Wheat Bread will often correct long standing cases of chronic constipation.
You can get the new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread all ready sliced and wrapped in a moisture proof cellophane wrapper at all leading food stores. It is easy to identify because by an exclusive process the outer crust is covered with an extra supply of health giving crushed wheat.

Housing Plan Explained To County Group

Residents Of Mt. Jackson Community Learn Of Federal Housing Set

EDWIN O. REED ACTS AS CHAIRMAN

One hundred and fifty persons, mostly citizens of Mt. Jackson, Bessemer, and the vicinity, gathered in the auditorium of the Mount Jackson High School Monday evening, where a program on Better Housing, sponsored by Edwin O. Reed, a member of the Federal Housing Administration County Executive Committee, was given.

The speaker of the evening, Marcus Feuchtwanger, County Director, was introduced by Mr. Reed, and outlined the work accomplished in the City survey and gave his reasons for believing that with the continued co-operation of those residing in the county, even better results could be obtained. 'Seasonable Loans' as set up by the government were particularly interesting to those present and were fully explained by Mr. Feuchtwanger.

The complete set up of the Federal Administration, through use of the 'vis-a-vis' machine, was then shown to those present, the same being operated by Joseph Bara of New Castle, and Robert Geis from the Federal Housing Administration Department.

Mr. Feuchtwanger asked the hearty cooperation of the tenants and home-owners so that when the investigators called upon them that they would be given the necessary information for his records, so that the requirements may be classified at the Headquarters of the Federal Housing Administration for the benefit of the contractors, building supply dealers, and other craftsmen.

The attempted robbery has been cleared up. The trio of bandits are in jail and Engle after making out a report for headquarters, will go to Butler.

In his place here will be Trooper Paul Longo, who has seen many years in the service of the state police. For 18 months he has been on duty in Mercer county.

The detail here will consist of Office-in-Charge Knudsen, and Troopers Longo and McCullough.

Would Use RWD Men To Remove Snow Off Streets

With all outdoor projects snow-bound and the men idle, it was suggested to W. Leslie Wilson, Acting Director of RWD for Lawrence county that the men might be transferred to a snow removal project on the city streets.

The men who are idle because of the snow are being paid the same budgetary deficiency as though they were working. However, the money does not come out of the projects but from a relief fund.

With every downtown street clogged with snow and the promise of a slushy condition if it isn't removed, City Engineer Harry Hoskins was to take the matter up with the state authorities of the RWD and see if something couldn't be done.

Last year this was done and thousands of tons of snow were removed from the streets and dumped into the Neshannock river.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WALKING WITH CHILDREN

I like to walk with children, for there's wonder in their eyes. And every little incident is lovely with surprise.

They're always finding beauty in some unexpected spot. And nothing seems to bore them they go at double trot.

But the grown-up men and women are so burdened down with care.

They walk right by the splendors that are shining everywhere.

I like to go with twelve-year-olds and watch them race about. And hear their shouts of gladness as they ferret marvels out.

They seem to find enchantment and excitement all the way. As if this big and busy world were fashioned just for play.

But the grown-up men and women know so much at which to scoff.

You'd think the shine of loveliness had all been grated off.

I think there ought to be a law compelling every man To walk with children once a day, or often as he can.

'Twould do him good to see once more the countless charms they find.

'Twould rid of hate and prejudice his overburdened mind. In spite of all the care he's known and wrongs he's had to bear.

The little folks would prove to him that joy is everywhere. (Copyright, 1935, Edgar A. Guest)

New RWD Highway To Shorten Route

Travel to Pittsburgh from New Castle will be shortened still more this summer when the new RWD road is finished from the Ellwood-Portersville road, to the Pinchot road which runs from Weigeltown to the Slippery Rock Creek.

The RWD road takes off from the Pinchot road which is completed, goes up the Slippery Rock to the Harris bridge and crosses there, then winds up around Mountville church to the Ellwood-Portersville road.

This road cuts off several miles from New Castle to Portersville and when completed will undoubtedly get a lot of traffic that ordinarily would go to Pittsburgh by way of Portersville.

The Pinchot road starts at Weigeltown on the Butler road, goes across

The signs are made of fourteen gauge non-rustable steel which will be painted with a white ducos as a background. The names and numbers on the signs will be in black paint, the letters to be Roman in design.

The posts are being made on Taylor street, being reinforced concrete, twelve feet in length, three feet of which will be below the level of the sidewalk.

MISUNDERSTANDING ON RUSSIAN RECOGNITION

Disclosure Is Startling

Litvinoff Statement Claims Huge U. S. Loan Was Promised Soviet

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES DENIAL

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The United States government today awoke to the startling disclosure that American recognition of Soviet Russia apparently was based on a misunderstanding.

This "misunderstanding" concerned the basis upon which President Roosevelt and Soviet foreign commissar Maxim Litvinoff agreed there should be a settlement of the American debt and damage claims against the Soviet Union.

Moscow's willingness to settle the American claims along the lines discussed by the president and Litvinoff was considered by this government a definite part of the understandings which led to American recognition of the Soviet regime.

Claims Promises Made

Litvinoff, in a statement issued in Moscow over the week end, claimed President Roosevelt promised this government would grant Soviet Russia an actual cash loan as part of the debt settlement agreement.

State department officials vigorously denied President Roosevelt made any such promise, stating that this government's offers were confined solely to credits to be extended to American exporters to help finance the development of trade with the Soviet Union.

Moscow's insistence upon the cash loan has caused the breakdown of the debt negotiations.

Litvinoff's statement roused fears at the state department that Soviet Russia, in the hope of escaping any payments on the American claims, may now have decided to assert it interpreted as a cash loan what President Roosevelt intended to mean would be credits.

Men are, on an average, five inches taller and about 30 pounds heavier than women, according to European statisticians.

Motions On Writ Are Both Refused

Judge R. L. Hildebrand Hands Down Opinion In Raubenold-old-Newmark Case

In the case of Royce Raubenold, administrator of Carol Raubenold against Morris Newmark, Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an opinion at court, Monday in which a rule of plaintiff for a special allotment to increase bond, was dismissed, and a motion of defendant to quash the writ, was also dismissed.

The case is one growing out of an automobile accident in Ohio in which Carol Raubenold was struck by the Newmark car and killed. Action here for damages was commenced by a writ of capias ad respondendum. Plaintiff applied for a special allotment for fixing of bail in excess of $1000. Defendant made a motion to quash the writ.

The court holds that at the hearing last week the plaintiff did not show damages in excess of $1000, neither did it appear that the defendant was a freeholder within the meaning of the law and did not show himself entitled to have the writ quashed. Newmark had already furnished a $1000 bond, when the attempt was made to have it raised.

MIAMI, Feb. 5.

TWO WEEKS ago in California, rolling over perfect roads that stretch more than a thousand miles along the edge of the Pacific, now in Florida, looking through palm trees over the quiet waters of Biscayne Bay. Two days hence in New York City and a little later in California again. This is not a very big world.

The one advantage that Florida has over California for easterners has been its accessibility. Two nights on the train from New York to Miami and back, seven nights on the train from New York to California and back. The airplane has wiped that out for those who care to fly. Leaving New York at four in the afternoon you land on the edge of the Pacific Ocean at seven next morning. Soon there will be only air travel for long distances.

THE REST of the United States will be glad to hear that Florida is having a good season, that started very early, heavy snows in the north-west encouraged that, and in Florida newspapers do not let visitors forget the snow.

One Miami editor puts it this way: "The ground hog gnawed through the ice and saw his shadow. Still six more weeks of winter. This makes it official. Visitors in the Miami area should be prepared to stay at least a couple of months more."

In California they ignore the ground hog, inviting you to stay twelve months, because California in summer is if anything a better tourist season than California winter, although the California winter is absolutely perfect.

THE IMPORTANT news is that France and England, abandoning "military clauses" in the treaty of Versailles, admit Hitler's right to re-arm Germany.

England is supposed to co-operate with France in the Danube area and Germany is supposed to join the League of Nations.

Hitler was re-arming Germany without permission, so it seemed it is well to give permission and have him do it nicely, "like a little gentleman."

AT RIDGELAND, South Carolina, an elephant was used to test the strength of a new stage in the high school auditorium. When an elephant crosses a bridge, he will put down one foot first, and not cross until sure the bridge will hold. The elephant found the Ridgeland high school stage satisfactory.

When Indian elephants used to drag British cannon they were intelligent enough to take that into consideration crossing bridges. If men were as careful as elephants we might have more useful statesmen.

the automobile code would stand. President Green of the American Federation of Labor said: "We will not accept, nor recognize, nor yield."

Now John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers' Union, makes wider the breach between organization labor and the administration, denouncing Mr. Richberg, one of President Roosevelt's close advisers, as a "traitor to labor."

Mr. Lewis says: "For Mr. Richberg, who knows of these things which I speak, I express my personal contempt." Some early expression from Mr. Richberg should be interesting. The administration begins to suspect that what union labor wants is not of co-operation but "obedience."

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. February 4, five arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness and disorderly conduct 2 and Drunkenness 3.

City police contribution to the clearing up of the robbery attempt at the State bank, Bessemer, was a telegram taken in December from a Negro arrested on a charge of suspicion. The telegram contained words of a suspicious nature. When the search for accomplices of Edward Scales started the city police turned over the telegram to the State police. Its origin was traced by the city police and it coincided with the man for whom the State troopers and Sheriff Pritchard were searching. The vigil resulted in Homer Christner's capture.

When the present city administration went into office they indicated that solicitors were not welcome in city hall and since then there have been very few who have taken up the time of the city officials. It is a well known fact that public officials seem to be the prey of persons who want to dispose of "this and that" for so much and in many instances the officials shell out although they cannot afford to do it.

Whoever stole and secreted the city-owned coupe operated by Sanitary Policeman Chauncey Davis has a knack for covering up as the car has not as yet been found. Search here and in Youngstown has been made. The auto was of an old vintage but if not recovered it will be a total loss as no insurance was carried on it. Just before the car disappeared from Home street two weeks ago where Davis was transacting city business two suspicious characters rounded a corner out of fight. When Davis went to get his car it had disappeared.

W. J. Toner, manager of the Bell Telephone company and Rex Hughes, city electrician, yesterday conducted a check of telephones and equipment used by the city. Several days ago Earl Wimer, controller, requested the check. The check will include a list of all telephones rented from the bell, hand sets and equipment.

From now on the city engineer will be kept on the hop checking up on petitions submitted by residents who want thoroughfares along which they live paved with a rack base and an amiable top. If the proposed plan of the city by which the financial cost on corner lot owners is adopted it is probable they will also fall in line with the paving idea. Under the proposed plan the corner lot owners would be charged a proportionate share and the city would pay some of the cost in addition to paving for the intersections.

A. Reid English, sealer of weights and measures today warned coal dealers that, unless they have secured from him by February 10, licenses to haul coal, they will be arrested. Failure to take out licenses is punishable by a fine of $25.00. A large number have failed to obey the law, he stated today.

New Castle High To Play Ambridge In Valley Tonight

Locals Will Seek Revenge For Defeat Handed To Them Earlier In Year

With a determination to wipeout the stigma of that 21 to 16 defeat handed to them at New Castle earlier in the year, the New Castle High School basketball team travel to Ambridge tonight for a return floor engagement in Section Three.

The New Castle High Reserves will play the Ambridge High Reserves in the preliminary game. Kozela and Carik will play the forwards tonight, with Ed Nahas at center, and Brownie Ostrosky and Harry Tuscano at the guards. The New Castle team is clicking nicely at the present time and it would not be surprising if the locals were to grab off a victory tonight.

Farrell St. Michaels Strong Semi-Pro Team Wins 50 To 43, Balla Stars

St. Michaels church basketball team of New Castle was defeated last night at Farrell, Pa., by the strong St. Michaels, one of the best semi-pro basketball teams in this section of the state. The score was 50 to 43. The Farrell team is unbeaten in more than 25 games this year. The team is made up of ex-college and high school stars.

At the end of the first half the Babovskym were behind at 22 to 21. In the second half Seaman and Seeh went laywire for the Mercer countians and made eight of the field goals, outscoring the New Castle boys 28 to 22. "Shimmy" Balla was in the game up to his ears and had nine field goals and a foul for 19 points. Mtsko and Hnat supplied 17 of the points.

Seeh is a former member of the Farrell high team, runnersup for state honors and one of the outstanding players in Mercer county. The New Castle St. Michaels played a great game, but lacked the experience of their opponents. The Farrell team played in the Tin City Rover league last year and were strong enough to finish second.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—While Duquesne's cagers roared along on its merry chase of a possibly perfect season today, another game was added to the Bluffmen's schedule for the present season when it was announced they will play Long Island university February 15 in New York.

Returning from an eastern swing after defeating Villanova 39 to 26 last night, the Dukes were to rest for a few days. They face Pitt Friday. Against Villanova, the Dukes launched their fast attack with the opening gun and were never threatened.

State Line Road
Near Completion

Work on the State Line road which has been going on jointly by the RWD in this county and Mahoning County Ohio, is about completed and the road will be ready to open within a week.

The top of the road is constructed of "red dog" instead of a bituminous covering and while it is probably inferior in quality to a bituminous top road it is felt that it will serve the purpose for which it is intended.

The road is about three miles in length and is on the state line, one half in Pennsylvania and one half in Ohio.

REILLY DECLARES FISCH WAS PAID $50,000 RANSOM

Justice Thomas W. Trenchard had relieved Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey State police, of a subpoena served upon him by the defense calling upon him to produce various records of the kidnapping investigation, including photographs of the "knap ladder" and Schwarzkopf's statements to the press.

After a few questions about the Bronx, Wilentz excused the witness.

Niece Is Called

Mrs. Maria Mueller, niece of Mrs. Anna Hauptmann followed Moses to the stand.

Mrs. Mueller corroborated evidence previously introduced to show that Hauptmann was attending a birthday party in his own home on the night of November 26, 1933.

She was there, she said, and Hauptmann took her home after the party.

That was the night Mrs. Cecile Barr, a state's witness, said Hauptmann was passing one of the ransom bills at a New York theatre.

The late Isidor Fisch, friend of Hauptmann, attended that party too, Mrs. Mueller said.

Mrs. Mueller was cross-examined by Wilentz. He asked her if she knew Hauptmann before he came to the United States and she said "no."

Q—That night of November 26, 1933, you left there 9:30 or 10 p. m.?

A—Yes.

Q—It couldn't have been 9:15 p. m.?

A—No.

Q—Your husband wasn't there, was he?

A—No.

Q—Didn't your husband come home around six that night and didn't you serve him a meal?

A—Oh, no.

Wilentz asked:

"Oh, That's A Lie"

"Don't you remember stating in the Bronx that nobody drove you home from Hauptmann's place the night of November 26, 1933?"

"Oh! That's a lie!" Mrs. Mueller cried.

Q—Hauptmann is your uncle. You were asked in the Bronx about your uncle's birthday and you said no one was there that night?

A—I said to Captain Appel I was thinking things over in my mind. Carl Schuster and Isidor Fisch were there.

Q—And now you remember that Hauptmann drove you home and it was after 9:30 because Mrs. Cecile Barr said Hauptmann was at the theatre at 9:30.

A—I don't remember what time she said.

Wilentz asked if she had not told several people there had not been a party in Hauptmann's home on the night of November 26, 1933.

"I still say there wasn't a party, really," she replied. "But in this country they call such things parties. It was just a visit."

Joseph J. Tardell, of New York, who said he is a steady patron of the Greenwich Village theatre where Mrs. Barr works and where she said Hauptmann passed a ransom bill, took the witness stand after Mrs. Mueller.

Defense Attorney Frederick A. Pope asked Tardell if he had ever been to the Loew's Sheridan Square theatre in New York, where Mrs. Barr had been employed as a cashier, Tardell replied:

"Yes, about once a week."

Asked if he knew Mrs. Barr, he replied:

"I know the cashier that sits there at the window."

Q—What personal experience with Mrs. Barr have you had at her exchange window during the past two or three years?

Witness Withdrawn

The state objected to the question and was sustained.

Pope tried hard to show through Tardell that Mrs. Barr's memory was not to be relied on, but Wilentz objected to almost every question Pope asked and his objections were sustained.

"Well, that's all then. If that is the court's ruling, I will have to withdraw the witness."

Mrs. Louisa Wallenberg, a statuesque brunette, was called to the stand next.

Defense Attorney Reilly asked her if she was married and she said "yes". She testified she was a friend of the Hauptmann's "since three weeks from their marriage."

"Were you present at Hauptmann's home at the farewell party for Fisch on December 2, 1933?" asked Reilly.

"Yes, I was there," the witness replied pleasantly.

She said the Hauptmanns, Muelers, Kloppenburgs, and Fisch were there.

"Fisch was the last to arrive," she said. "I didn't see him come in, though."

Sugar Worker Is Fatally Injured By Plunge Today

Workman Buried Under 200,000 Pounds Of Sugar, Tries To Aid Rescuers

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Death came today to Virgino Perry... a lingering, tortuous death under 200,000 pounds of sugar... death that climaxed the victim's suffocating pleas to sever his leg in an effort to save his life.

Perry was plunged to the bottom of a 75-foot funnel in a Charlestown sugar refinery this morning when his safety-belt snapped.

Tons of gleaming white sugar cascaded about him... swirling down the funnel... covering him with its deadly sweetness.

At the bottom of the funnel, Perry's body was so twisted that one leg slipped out of the funnel's end while the other doubled grotesquely under him.

Ellwood Plays Beaver Falls Here Tonight

Tubers Hope To Turn Over New Leaf When They Meet Tigers At Lincoln Gym

RESERVES TO MEET IN PELIMINARY

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 5.—Ellwood City high cagers have resolved to turn over a new leaf for the remainder of the basketball season and chase the jinx that has been following them the whole season.

They plan to start this tonight, when Beaver Falls high will be here for the return game. The locals took a bad beating at the hands of the Tigers, but promise it will be a horse of another matter tonight. The Benedictines have always been a hard nut to crack on their home floor and sooner or later that losing streak is going to be broken. The Tubers have lost some mighty fine games by the breadth of a hair. This cannot keep up for ever and the locals are concentrating on the Tigers.

The strength of the local line-up has not been impaired by the loss of Marcus for the remainder of the season, due to difficulties in his studies. Kraynak after recovering from his recent illness has been switched from center to Marcus' guard position. Cy Hughes, who has been capably filling his shoes in the past few games, will retain this position. The remainder of the local line-up will be intact. This combination has been clicking in the workouts and will give the locals an added advantage in height.

Ellwood surprised Beaver Falls high last year by defeating them here and hope to repeat tonight and thus avenge their previous defeat.

The Reserve teams of both schools will play in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock. The varsity game will begin about 8:15.

Plane Forced Down In Koppel District

KOPPEL, Feb. 5.—A number of Koppel residents and persons in that vicinity were given somewhat of a thrill on Sunday afternoon at about 4:30 when a large six passenger cabin monoplane made a forced landing on a large field on the border of the community. It had been enroute from Springfield, Ill. to New Castle.

The pilot, of Springfield, whose name was not learned, was the only person in the plane and said that he was forced to land after the motor had failed and could not be started again because of a broken starter.

The plane had glided over Koppel at a very low altitude, the pilot apparently attempting to find a suitable spot on which to land. Before he had landed many minutes it was surrounded by hundreds of curious people. The plane had landed about a hundred yards from the highway and was not damaged in landing.

County Farmers Get Little Help

New Deal Of A. A. A. Places
But $653.02 In Hands Of Local Farmers

OVER MILLION PAID IN STATE

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent,
New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Up to January first of this year Lawrence county farmers had benefitted to the extent of only $653.02 from the New Deal agricultural adjustment program, according to figures released today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.
Of this amount, $127.56 was paid to farmers of the county reducing their wheat crop. The larger amount of $525.46 went to county farmers cooperating in the corn-hog reduction program. Of all Pennsylvania counties, only eight had received smaller totals of federal benefits than Lawrence county.
Federal benefit payments aggregated $1,678.24 in Butler county, $985.75 in Beaver county, $1,570.11 in Mercer county, $1,013.21 in Allegheny county, and $1,051.38 in Erie county. Such benefits in the state as a whole totaled $1,618,841.17. Such benefit payments, on the other hand, amounted to $12,675,393 in Ohio but only $299,591.8 in West Virginia.

Huge Quantities Of Potatoes Stored In Mercer County

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Feb. 5.—Thousands of bushels of Mercer county potatoes are in storage for spring sales when it is hoped that price conditions will improve over the average price of 35 cents a bushel offered for them now. With the "Spud" crop predicted an almost certain failure due to the drouth of June and July the rains of August made possible the harvesting of late tubers in quantity and quality both that in some sections are record breaking.

Melody And Mirth Mark "Sunny Skies"

Plot Laid In Kentucky With Colorful Scenery And Tuneful Choruses

Moving melodies and moving feet are the order of the evening in the Y. W. C. A. at the present time. Rehearsals for "Sunny Skies" are under way and every night sees a little more progress towards the goal of perfection that Director William Kay Martin is endeavoring to attain.

The musical will be presented in the Cathedral on Friday night, February 15 with a cast of 400 local artists and if early rehearsals mean anything the show looks to be a little the cleaverest of any of the annual productions of the Y. W. C. A.

With a background of blue grass, Kentucky colonels, and no mint ju-leps, a plot that intrigues and a cast that will delight, "Sunny Skies" seems to have what it takes and you'll be glad to take what it has.
One of the outstanding scenes in the show will be the "Little Country Town" number sung by Miss Ruth Lewis and Charles A. Crowl the two leads. The number will feature the talented Ruth Phillips and Eva Brown. These girls execute an intricate tap routine assisted by the following chorus of lassies: Betty Lou Orr, Maria Isolda, Virginia McBride, Kate Gano, Merilynne Blank, Lay-te Thomas Wheeler, Twila Nixon, and Grayce Clark.

terested. The actual presentation of

NEW CASTLE DRY GOODS CO.

On Court House Hill

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard and Deputy Elmer P. Taylor sold nineteen properties yesterday at sheriff's sale. All of the properties were knocked down to the plaintiffs in the executions. There were twenty on the list, but three sales were stayed.

District Attorney Mont L. Ailey has been informed that several prisoners in the county jail desire to enter pleas of guilty or nolo contendere. Judge Hildebrand has fixed next Saturday as sentence day.
Those who plead, would not have been tried until the March term of criminal court, and by pleading they can have part of their sentences served by that time.

Motion for judgement for want of of sufficient affidavit of defense has been made in the case of J. Clyde Giffillan, trading as the J. Clyde Giffillan Lumber company against The Simplex Battery and Manufacturing company. The amount of the claim is $256.93.

Petition was presented in court today asking that an order made in the case of Anthony Lukas be revoked. A commission had been appointed for Lucas on the grounds that he was suffering from mental trouble and unable to look after his property. The petition set forth that he has recovered and the order was made.

Ray H. Aylesworth, receiver for the Pittsburgh company of Ellwood City, was authorized by the court to make a deed for property sold to Edmund H. Evans. A mortgage to the Beaver county building and loan on the property will be satisfied, and it will be taken subject only to taxes.

Thirty-three mortgages, totaling almost $100,000 were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week by the Home Owners Loan corporation. These were cases which were ready for title examinations at the time orders were received to take no more new applications. At that time there was a long list of applicants for loans whose cases were not sufficiently far enough along to entitle them to secure loans. However orders have now been given at Washington that the various local organizations can proceed with the applications which they had on file, the expectation being that congress will make another appropriation to take care of these loans. The Home Owners Loan corporation has been of great service in saving homes.

Three mortgages to the Federal Land bank were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Two were in Shenango township for $800 and $900 respectively and one in Slippery Rock township for $900. These loans perform the same services for the farmer that the Home Owners Loan corporation does for the city dweller. Farmers can refinance saving in interest charges. The local organization, has been receiving quite a number of applications recently. The Federal Land bank has plenty of money to loan.

Taylor township road supervisors have presented a petition to court asking for the re-location of a section of the road in that township, leading from West Pittsburg to Cheverson. The section which it is proposed to re-locate is near West Pittsburg, east of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad tracks and over the tracks of the Pittsburg and Western railroad controlled by the Baltimore and Ohio. The change would eliminate a grade crossing, and also another crossing now spanned by a bridge. The Baltimore and Ohio is not only donating the land, but has graded it and gravelled it, and will donate it without cost to the township or county.

Last week was a very good one
at the register and recorder's office.
Instruments of all kinds being recorded, among them being 43 deeds for property.

Few Diphtheria Cases Last Year

Only Five Cases Occur In Entire County During 1934, Records Show

Only five cases of diphtheria were reported in the entire county last year, a review of the records of the city and county health departments shows. Of this number, four were in the city and one in the county.
The one case in the county, contracted by a man who was employed in Butler, was the second diphtheria case in the county in the last eight years, County Medical Director Dr. H. C. Harper states. Both of these were among adults, as were the four cases reported in the city last year.
The use of toxin anti-toxin has virtually stamped out diphtheria, and the discovery of a case is extremely rare.

Chinese Speaker Attracts Interest

Trinity Church Is Filled To Hear
Dr. Wei Speak On "Human Relationships"

Friends from Youngstown, representatives of Westminster College, and Teachers College, Slippery Rock; The Rev. S. M. Black and a fine delegation from St. Andrew's and St. Luke's, Ellwood City; and a large congregation of people of the Parish filled Trinity church Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Dr.
John O. Ward, D. D., Bishop of Erie in introducing Dr. Wei expressed his surprise and delight at the large number attending.

Speaking from the point of view of an old aristocratic Chinese family which traces its ancestry back 3,000 years, a highly educated gentleman in the western sense, Dr.
Wei gave a comprehensive and convincing picture of the present stage of development in a vast nation of 460,000,000 people. He said the Na-king government is no longer an experiment. It has gained control of two thirds of China and is rapidly winning the other third. The leaders of China see the principles for the solution of the political and the educational problems. Expansion of industries, (tapping the vast resources of the nation), and transportation facilities proceed rapidly. But what of the economic problem?

Is China to keep her old ideal, wherein the scholar ranks first or is she to put money making first? To enter the competitive field for world markets with consequent large armies, air forces and navy to protect her commerce after the western fashion? What will this mean for the peace of the world?

Then he reviewed from first hand knowledge, and in a keen analytical manner, the contribution the various religions had made to the life of the Chinese nation, showing that Christianity alone is able to meet the demands of the new and modernized China, and to save it

Atones To Child For Mother's Death

(International News Service)

DENVER, Feb. 5.—Joyce Wollner, 5 and her father, Hans Wollner, an unemployed carpenter, will go to Nuremberg, Germany, this spring, at the expense of Frank L. Dent, Denver theater man.

The little girl will remain in Germany with her grandparents.
The trip was arranged by Dent after manslaughter charges against him growing out of the death of the girl's mother, Mrs. Ottile Wolner, were dismissed in Denver district court.

Friends said that ever since Dent's automobile struck, and killed Mrs. Wollner, last Sept. 28, he has been despondent. In an attempt to compensate the little girl for the loss of her mother he is giving her the trip to her parents' native land and money on which to live after she arrives there.
